Exchange & Broker's Office,

Georgetown, District of Columbia.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next doo below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or trav[illegible] to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Valuable Family Medicines.

JUST received direct from the proprietors, the following valuable Medicines, all of which have been in use for a number of years past, in almost every part of the United States; have been highly patronised by people of the first respectability; and approved by those who have had occasion to make use of them, for the cure of those disorders, for which they are severally calculated.

Dr. Lee's Genuine (Windham) Bilious Pills,

Universally known and used throughout the United States as a Family Medicine. The fame of these pills has become so great that many have attempted to counterfeit them—to guard against this, the proprietors have procured a Stereotype Label, and each box of Genuine Lee's Pills will hereafter be enclosed in one of these labels, with these words on the sides: "Lee's Genuine Windham Bilious Pills," and on the end of the Label the words, "Samuel Lee, patentee, &c. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said Label on them, the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

Dr. Thompson's Celebrated Eye-Water:

For the cure of inflamed and sore eyes of almost every description. This valuable preparation comes highly recommended from the most respectable sources. Price 50 and 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Rawson's Genuine Itch Ointment:

A certain and safe cure for that disagreeable complaint, as well as other irruptions of the skin. Price 37½ cents a box.

Dr. Rawson's Anti-Bilious and Stomachic Bitters,

For weakly and infirm constitutions. Price 37½ cents a box.

Hinckley's Infallible Remedy for the Piles,

A most valuable medicine. Price 50 cents a box.

Specific Drops for the Tooth Ache,

Which in almost every case, gives instant relief, in that distressing complaint. Price 37½ cents a bottle.

Cooley's Vegetable Elixir, for Coughs, Asthmas, Consumptions, &c.

A very valuable medicine in those complaints. Price 50 cents a bottle.

For sale in Alexandria, by Edward Stabler & Richard H. Litle; in Georgetown, by John Litle Otho. M. Linthicum & Co. & Nathaniel Jewit; Washington City, David Ott & Elisha Harrison. 6w March 1

LATE FROM ENGLAND.

From London papers, received at the office of the New-York Gazette.

London, January 21.

Whenever the subject of emigration from his country to the United States, has happened to come under our notice, we have generally expressed satisfaction, rather than anxiety at its progress. We felt, that they who had imbibed such a distaste for England, or indulged such a restlessness of disposition, as inclined them to seek a happier destiny in self banishment, were not likely to prove very useful or valuable citizens at home. And, indeed, it came within our knowledge, that a majority of those persons, over whose departure such futile lamentations were poured, were precisely of that description with which a well regulated society could dispense. The motives which determine a man to abandon the home of his fathers, with the exception of a few visionary and romantic cases, are commonly compounded of political disaffection and a laxity of moral discipline.—They are either poisoned with seditious notions, or impatient of the slow gains of honest industry, and by emigration, shake off, upon easy terms, sundry duties and obligations which they might find inconvenient if they remained. When they resolved to go, however, it became a matter of prudence to dignify their choice if they could, and the pretexts of indignant patriotism or the hardships of oppressive taxation, easily occurred.

It is in this light that we have viewed the question of emigration, under certain obvious qualifications. We have always believed, that they who left us, took with them many vices, which we could advantageously spare. The same opinion we would extend to the emigrants from other countries, under similar limitations. That we are not wholly wrong in our supposition is established, we think, in a speech lately delivered to the grand jury of New-York, by alderman Mesier, and which, at the request of the grand jury, has been published. We have read this charge, and have no hesitation in pronouncing it worthy of public approbation. It shews, among other things, "that the land of public felicity," is as much deformed by crimes as the oldest communities of Europe, But what we chiefly wish to place before our readers is the following passage, which we consider a positive confirmation of our opinion as to the general character of those who emigrate to America. New-York is the great place of rendezvous for those persons; and Mr. alderman Mesier, after adverting to various offences which prevail, and their causes, adds, "the vicious habits of our city have, in some measure, their origin in the mixed character of our population, To this source may be referred many novel offences, as also the artifice with which they are perpetrated. Exotic vices, from the various nurseries of Europe, have been transplanted here, and professors of iniquity have found in this land of their adoption, talents equal to the practice of every improvement in villany which the old school has invented." So much for the virtuous, moral unsophisticated population, whom taxation and tyranny, as we are told by shameless demagogues, have driven across the Atlantic! It turns out that the greater part of them have proved themselves "importers of exotic vices," and "professors of iniquity." How deeply ought we to deplore their loss! [Courier.

[Now read what follows, from the same paper.]

At the late East Riding sessions, held at Beverly, in Yorkshire, an unusual number of atrocious criminals were brought up for trial, and sentence of transportation passed upon the greatest part of them. Amongst them was the mother of Snowden Dunhill, whose gang was for many years the terror of the East Riding, and who owed the greatest part of their crimes to her instruction—her first husband having been hanged, and her second transported. At the bar, she presented something of the grotesque and dreadful figure of "Meg Merrilies;" and after sentence was passed on her by the chairman, she threw up her hands towards Heaven, and hoped "the Almighty would sink the whole bench to perdition!" In this profligate state she was taken back to the gaol to undergo her future punishment, should her advanced age allow a continuance in life to undergo it.

Lord Erskine.—The marriage of this eminent lawyer is not generally known, although it took place so far back as October last, at Gretna-Green. It is certain that little notice of this remarkable event has yet appeared in the public prints. In October his lordship arrived at Gretna, accompanied by Miss Sarah Buck, the present Lady Erskine, by whom he had had several children out of the pale of wedlock. He was dressed in fashionable female attire, with a large Leghorn bonnet and long veil. On the arrival of the officiating priest of the temple of Hymen, his lordship threw off his dress, and appeared in propria personæ, and the usual ceremony being gone through, the parties were declared man and wife! His lordship again put on his female vestments, and was on the point of taking his departure, when his son, the hon. Thomas Erskine, made his appearance in a chaise and four; but the knot was tied, and shortly after, the new married couple drove off. The bride is about thirty-seven years old; the noble bridegroom nearly seventy. The object of this extraordinary step is said to be for the purpose of legalizing the children of this connection, who, according to Scottish law, cease to be illegitimate on the marriage of their parents at any time.

FROM LONDON PAPERS,

Received at the Office of the Commercial Advertiser.

London, Jan. 10.

SIR F. BURDETT AND COBBETT.

The following correspondence, which has taken place between Cobbett and Sir Francis Burdett, has excited much curiosity.

TO MR. TIPPER.

North Hamstead, L. I. Nov. 20, 1817.

My dear Sir—First let me acknowledge my deep sense of the kind manner in which you have uniformly spoken to Mrs. Cobbet with regard to me; and then, without further waste of that time of which I have so little to spare, let me come to business, and let me lay down, before I proceed to our own particular affair, some principles which I hold to be just to my conduct towards my creditors in general.

If there be any man who can pretend for one moment, that mine is an ordinary case, and that not having enough to pay every body, I ought to be regarded as an insolvent debtor, in the usual acceptation of the words; and if he does this after being apprised that the whole force of an infamous tyranny was embodied into the shape of despotic ordinances, intended for the sole purpose of taking from me the real and certain and increasing means of paying off every debt and mortgage in two years; if there be any man whose prosperity and whose means of profitably employing his own industry, have remained wholly untouched and unaffected by these despotic and sudden acts of the government, and who is yet so insensible to all feelings of humanity, as well as so willingly blind to every principle of either moral or political justice! If there be any man who, wholly absorbed in his attachment to his own immediate interest, is ready to cast blame on a debtor, who has had his means of paying cut off by an operation as decisive as that of an earthquake; which should sink into eternal nothing his lands, his houses, and his goods; if there be a man who, it he had been a creditor of Job, would have insisted that that celebrated object of a malignant devil's wrath, which had swept away his flocks, his herds, his sons and his daughters was an insolvent debtor and a bankrupt, and ought to have been considered as such, spoken of as such, and as such provided against; if their be any such man as this, to whom I owe any thing, to such man I first say that I despise him from the bottom of my soul; and then I say, that if he dare meet me before the world in open and written charge, I pledge myself to cover him with as much shame and infamy as that world can be brought to deign to bestow upon so contemptible a being. For such occasions as the one here supposed, if such occasion should ever occur, I reserve the arguments and conclusion which the subject would naturally suggest. To you I trust no such arguments are necessary, and therefore I will now proceed to state, explicitly, my intentions with regard to what I shall endeavor to do in the way of paying off debts. I hold it to be perfectly just that I should never, in any way whatever, give up one single farthing of my future earnings to the payment of any debt in England.

When the society is too weak or unwilling to defend the property, whether mental or of a more ordinary and vulgar species, and where there is not the will or the power in the society to yield him protection, he becomes clearly absolved of all his engagements, of every sort, to that society; because in every bargain of every kind it is understood that both the parties are to continue to enjoy the protection of the laws of property.

But from the great desire which I have, not only to return to my native country, but also to prevent the infamous acts levelled against me from injuring those persons with whom I have pecuniary engagements, and some of whom have become my creditors, from feelings of friendship, and a desire to serve me, I eagerly waive all claim to this principle, and I shall neglect no means within my power fully to pay and satisfy every demand, as far as that can be done consistently with that duty which calls on me to take care that my family have the means of fairly exerting their industry, and of leading that sort of life to which they have a just claim.

It is clear, however, that to do any thing in the way of paying off must be a work of some little time. I place great dependence on the produce of some literary labours of great and general utility; and it is of these that I am now about more particularly to speak, and to make you, Sir, a distinct proposition.

[The remainder of the letter is occupied in explanations relative to two works, the materials of which were to be transmitted in two months from the date of the letter. The first is an improved edition of "Le Mache Anglois," or teaching Frenchmen English; the second a new work, called "The French Master," for teaching Englishmen French.]

TO SIR FRANCIS BURDETT, BART.

North Hampstead, L. I. Nov. 20, 1817

Sir—I enclose you the copy of a letter to Mr. Tipper, which I beg you to have the goodness to read, and to consider the contents of it (as far as they relate to the liquidation of my debts generally) as addressed to yourself. In addition you will be pleased to understand that, as to the debt due to you, no pains shall be spared by me to obtain the means of paying it as soon as possible; and I beg that you will furnish Mr. White, my Attorney, with your charge against me, including interest, that he may transmit it to me.

I now transmit to Mr White, Wright's note of hand. It must be endorsed by you before I can proceed against Wright. This rascal always contended that he borrowed this money on his own account. Your word was quite sufficient to prove the contrary—and though no part of it was ever made use of for me, and though the arbitrator determined against my being at all responsible, I thought myself, and still think myself, bound to pay you, you putting me in a condition to recover the money from him, which you can at once do by endorsing the note of hand. I am well aware the grounds of complaint and reproach to which debtors always expose themselves, and I am not vain enough to expect to escape consequences to which all others are liable; but if I finally pay to the last farthing, those grounds will be all swept away—and as I am in no doubt of being able, in a short space of time, to pay every one fully. I anticipate with great satisfaction the day of my deliverance from this sort of thraldom.—I am, sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

WM. COBBETT.

REPLY OF SIR F. BURDETT TO MR. WM. COBBET.

St. James's-palace, Jan. 31, 1818.

Sir—I have just received yours of the 20th of November, and carefully and according to your desire, perused the enclosed to Mr. Tipper.

It is not my intention to enter into any controversy respecting the honesty or dishonesty of paying or not paying debts, according to the convenience, of the party owing. It seems that if it should ever suit your convenience, and take nothing from the comforts and enjoyments of yourself, and family, such comforts and enjoyments, and means too of distinguishing themselves, as you think they are entitled to, all this being previously secured, then you think yourself bound to pay your debts; if, on the contrary, that cannot be effected without sacrifices on your and their part, in that case your creditors have no claim to prefer, and you no duty to perform. You then stand absolved, rectus inforo conscientiæ, and for this singular reason, because those who lent you their money when you were in difficulty and distress, in order to save you and your family from ruin, were and are unable to protect you either against your own fears, or the power of an arbitrary government, under which they have the misfortune to live, and to which they are equally exposed. These principles which are laughable in theory, are detestable in practice. That you should not only entertain and act upon, but openly avow them, and blind your own understanding or think to blind that of others, by such flimsy pretences, is one more melancholy proof of the facility with which self-interest can assume the mask of hypocrisy, and by means of the weakest sophistry, overpower the strongest understanding. How true is our common law maxim, that no man is an upright judge in his own cause—how truly and prettily said by the French, "La Nature se pipe;" nor less truly, though more grossly in English, "Nature's her own baw'd.

In expressing my abhorrence of the principle you lay down for your conduct, and concerning which you challenge my opinion a little unfairly; considering the ridicule with which you at the same time threaten to overwhelm the unfortunate wight who presumes to differ from them, I do not desire that you should act upon any other with regard to me; I should be sorry your family were put to any inconvenience on my account; should your circumstances ever prove so prosperous as to enable you to discharge your debts without infringing upon those new principles of moral obligation you have adopted, which for the first time since the commencement of the world have, I believe, been, though frequently acted on, openly promulgated. As to complaint or reproach, they are the offspring of weakness and folly—disdain should stifle them—but nothing can or ought to stifle the expression of disgust every honest mind must feel at the want of integrity in the principles you proclaim, and of feeling and generosity in the sentiments you express.—I am, sir, your most obedient and most humble servant,

F. BURDETT.

Office of the New-York Gazette, Sunday, March 21—noon.

The Ann, captain Crocker, sailed from Liverpool on the 25th of January, up to which date the editors of the New-York Gazette have received papers, prices current, and Lloyd's List.

Although our accounts by the Ann are no later than by the Virginia, at Norfolk, we have a variety of intermediate dates, affording, at least, much valuable marine information.

Liverpool, January 23.

Prices.—Cocoa, Carraccas, 120 to 135; Carolina rice, 36 to 38; American flour, 44 to 50; Sea Island cotton, 3s 6d to 4s; New-Orleans, 1s 5d to 1s 8d; Georgia, bowed, 1s 4d to 1s 6½d; American tar, 14 to 16; turpentine, 14 to 17; pot ashes, 52 to 56; pearl, 57 to 59.

The great house of Campbell; Bowden & Co. at London, is effectually relieved. The bank advanced £150,000, and thirty merchants £5,000 each. Such was the confidence in the solvency of this house, that not only the bank, but individuals, feeling and acting like men, came forward with a generosity that has seldom been equaled.

The king of England had stumbled over a chair, and hurt his left leg—an alteration in his regimen and diet was ordered. His only exercise was wheeling about in a garden chair. It was apprehended that his dissolution was fast approaching.

We observe by the London papers, that rat skins are now made use of as uppers to Ladies shoes. It takes six skins for one pair. The leather is remarkably soft and beautiful, and the seams are fancifully arranged.

Charleston March, 20.

THE MURDERER RE-TAKEN.

Martin Toohey, convicted of murder on the person of James W. Gadsden, esq. some time since, by the connivance of the turnkey of the gaol, escaped thence on Wednesday evening last, when both went off together. In compliance with orders from his excellency the Governor, the Charleston Riflemen and Northern Volunteers, were detached from the 29th regt on Thursday last, to scour the country, and retake them if possible. After a diligent search of about 20 hours, they were discovered in a wood near the Four Mile House, taken, and brought to the goal, guarded by the above companies. When first discovered, Toohey discharged a brace of pistols upon his pursuers, by which one of the riflemen was slightly wounded, who immediately gave him a blow with a saber on the head, which severely wounded him, and he was soon after taken by the party in pursuit. While on their return to town yesterday, a negro man overtook the cavalcade, and informed that Eery, the turnkey, was in the vicinity, when a party was detached, which brought him in.

The members of the corps who were engaged in the above laborious service, deserve much praise for the vigilent manner in which they performed their duty.

Married,

On Thursday, the 25th ult. at Bladensburgh, by the Rev. Mr. Addison, of Geo. Town, JOHN P. HEATH, Esq. late captain in the marine corps, U. S. navy, to Miss ELIZABETH, daughter of col. Deakins, of the former place.

Alex'a. Common Council.

March 15, 1819.

Mr. J. C. Vowell reported the following bills, viz:

"An act to repeal an act to authorise the payment of the salary of the superintendent of pumps;" and

"An act to repeal an act to establish a Vaccine Institution in the town of Alexandria;" which were severally read a first and second time; and the 9th rule being suspended, they were read a third time, and passed.

A communication was received from the proprietors of the Alexandria Theatre, requesting a repeal of part of the law regulating theatrical performances, passed at the last session of the council—whereupon

Leave was granted to bring in a bill to amend an act, entitled "an act concerning theatrical performances, and other public exhibitions," passed on the 17th day of April, 1818; which was read a first and second time; and the 9th rule being suspended, it was read a third time, and passed by ayes and noes, as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Keith, Keene, Ramsay, Neale, Swift, Mandeville, Longden, Hooe and Rhodes—9.

Noes—Messrs. J. C. Vowell, T. Vowell, Bryan and Gird—4.

Ordered, That Messrs. Gird and Thomas Vowell be a committee to make a report on the communications of the printers.

Extract from the minutes.

Teste, I. P. THOMPSON, C. C.

March 18, 1819.

The following bills, viz:

"An act to repeal an act to authorise the payment of the salary of the superintendent of police;" and "an act to repeal an act to establish a vaccine institution in the town of Alexandria," were this day returned by the mayor, with his objections, in writing; which communication was ordered to lie on the table.

On balloting for a treasurer of the corporation, James L. McKenna was unanimously re-elected.

Extract from the minutes.

Teste, I. P. THOMPSON, C. C.

Notice.

☞ The inhabitants of Alexandria will take notice, that the subscribers have been appointed assessors for the present year, agreeably to the laws of the corporation.

"The said assessors shall, immediately after their appointment, proceed to value the houses and lots within the limits of the corporation, and to demand from the masters and mistresses of every family, lists of all male tytheables belonging to, or residing in their respective families, and also from every owner of taxable property, a list of such property. And if any master or mistress of a family, or any owner of taxable property, shall neglect or refuse to give in a list of all male tytheables belonging to, or residing in his or her family, or of his or her taxable property, within five days after demand made thereof by any assessor, the person so offending shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars. And if any person whatsoever, shall wilfully omit or misrepresent in the list given in, any tytheable or any taxable property, or shall in any other manner conceal the same from the knowledge of the assessors, the person so offending shall forfeit and pay double the amount of the tax imposed on each tytheable or taxable property. Every merchant, shopkeeper, mechanic, or other person, having in his or her service or employment any clerk, journeyman, apprentice, or assistant, shall render an account of the same in his or her list of tytheables, and shall be accountable for the capitation tax hereby imposed, in like manner and under the same penalties, as if such clerk, journeyman, apprentice, or assistant, were a member of his or her family."

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or
